

Jean-François Galtier, new strategic asset for the Vitaprotech Group as Chief Product Officer

The Vitaprotech Group is proud to announce the appointment of Mr. Jean-François Galtier as Chief Product Officer (CPO), effective September 1. This appointment is of major strategic importance for our Group, demonstrating our strong commitment to sustained growth, which requires a reinforced structuring of our activities and management.

Working closely with Olivier Reyre, recently appointed Chief Technical Officer, Jean-François Galtier's main mission will be to define the Group's product strategy, while helping to drive innovation within our product portfolio. Together, they will form a complementary management team determined to make Vitaprotech the essential choice for the security solutions of the future.

As CPO, Jean-François Galtier will also lead the Group's research and development (R&D), alongside Olivier Reyre. Their work will focus on three crucial areas:

- Cybersecurity: They will lead efforts to strengthen security systems, thus protecting sensitive customer data against emerging digital threats.
- SaaS development: they will oversee the growth and innovation of Vitaprotech's cloud services (SaaS), offering our customers flexible and scalable solutions.
- Artificial Intelligence: they will coordinate the integration of advanced technologies to anticipate and solve the most complex problems.

Trained as an engineer, Jean-François Galtier brings with him a wealth of professional experience in product development, team management, and software creation in the SaaS field. He has acquired exceptional technical skills that are crucial for the realization of our strategic development plan. Having worked in numerous countries, his international profile will also be a valuable asset in accelerating our international expansion.

This appointment marks a significant milestone in our commitment to remain at the forefront of innovation and provide top-notch security solutions to our clients.

We welcome him to the Vitaprotech Group and wish him every success in carrying out his new responsibilities.

Eric THORD
President of the Vitaprotech Group
